BERWYN, PA – January 15, 2016– On February 3, 2016, Perrin Conferences, the nation’s leader in joint plaintiff and defense litigation conferences, holds its first E-Cigarette Webinar addressing the looming legal and scientific storm.

The webinar, which includes expert speakers from Cardno ChemRisk in Orange County, CA and Herrick, Feinstein of NY, NY will discuss a myriad of factors including product descriptions, risks and comparisons to tobacco, and the pending regulatory atmosphere in this currently unregulated industry and the hotly debated concerns in the media and by health agencies.

Speaking at the conference will be

Autumn Bernal, Ph.D., Health Scientist, Natural Resources & Health Science Division, Cardno ChemRisk, Orange County, CA

Thales Cheng, MPH, Associate Health Scientist, Natural Resources & Health Science Division, Cardno ChemRisk, Orange County, CA

Elise De Gandiaga, Associate Health Scientist, Natural Resources & Health Science Division, Cardno ChemRisk, Orange County, CA

Ronald J. Levine, Esq., Herrick, Feinstein LLP, New York, NY

The Wall Street Journal, December 9th, published an article stating, “Harvard researchers say 39 of the 51 flavors sold by leading brands contained diacetyl, which has been linked to severe respiratory diseases.” This linking to “Popcorn Lung” will require that defense and plaintiff attorneys both be prepared for the coming litigation in this arena.
